In Loving Memory of Queen Elizabeth The II

A mother, a sister, a grandmother and to us a well fitted queen. We join the royal family in this time of mourning and send condolences to each member of the royal family, and even more to King Charles the III who recently became king following quickly after his mothers timely death giving him a lot of responsibility and not enough time to grieve. The quote 'Long live the queen' will remain true as she will live on in our memory.

We all are grieving with you.

Lily-Rose

Date King Charles III,

I am so sorry for your loss. I can empathise with how you're feeling inside. The Queen was a very nice Lady and the world will never be the same without your Mum. My family has a connection with the Queen cause my 96 year old Grandad met the Queen and bowed down to her good luck with ruling the world with your mama in your heart.

Dear King Charles

I am writing to you to express my condolences for your mum, Queen Elizabeth, who was like a mother to the whole nation, her memory will be in our hearts for as long as we live. I hope your reign is as long and beautiful as hers. I can imagine the pain you and your family are in, and we will tell her story to our children and their children and everything she did for us. All the donations and love she gave us I hope everyone loves you like we loved her.

I hope you and Camilla, the Queen Consort, have a wonderful life as King and Queen.

Dear King Charles III,

I send my deepest condolences to you for the death of our faithful and dedicated Queen. She was the longest reigning monarchy in British history, devoting her entire life to our service and reaching the astounding platinum jubilee milestone, as well as providing us with support and reassurance in the toughest of times. In addition to this, we all know she adored horses, opting to watch them race regularly, and corgis too, to the extent of which she owned 30 throughout her extraordinary lifetime. The Queen's death was undoubtedly a momentous occasion which, in respects for her, led to a number of actions such as silences, half mast flags, low moods on radios and several more. Therefore, her majesty will be missed greatly and her legacy will continue for countless years to come.

Yours sincerely,

Gemma

Dear King Charles,

"Don't take yourself too seriously." — Elizabeth II

Queen Elizabeth II

The Nations sob,
And the whole world grieves,
Queen Elizabeth II,
What a legacy she leaves.

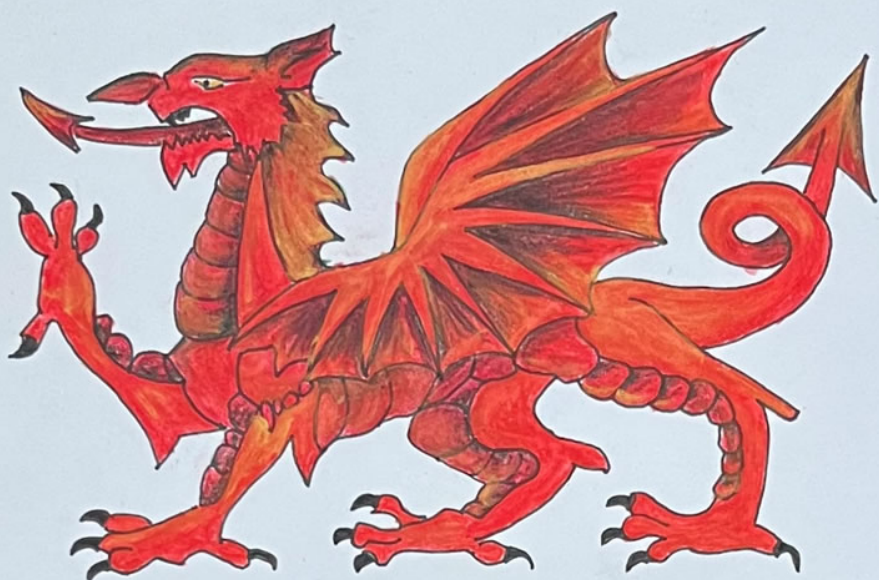

Reigned over Great Britain for 70 years,
And showed us all just how it's done,
Committed and a pillar of strength,
With devotion that's second to none.

Not just Queen Elizabeth to us,
But a wife, mum and Gran-Gran too,
Fond memories and lasting impressions,
Left on all whom she knew.

We honour our great monarch with praise,
With respect all flags at half mast,
A sad final journey our Queen will make,
Reunited with Prince Phillip at last.

Queen Elizabeth II we'll never forget,
The greatest reign of all,
Though the newly crowned King Charles III,
Must now rise at her fall.
